

PAINT THE TOWN RAD

World-Renowned Street Artists Flock to Windsor for Massive Mural Festival

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Windsor, ON – From October 3-10, more than 50 international and local muralists will gather in Windsor to execute the largest public art project in Windsor's history: Free For All Walls Mural Project. Dozens of murals will be installed simultaneously at locations between Riverside Drive, Tecumseh Road, Drouillard Road and Crawford Avenue.

Alongside the mural installations, will be a week-long schedule of events including artist meet and greets, and an all encompassing mural tour of the new works as well as ones from the past.

On Saturday, October 7th, the signature event of the festival, Part Art Part Party, will feature live art battles, an art exhibition, art demonstrations, unique vendors, DJs, prizes and more. Part Art Part Party is being hosted at WindsorEats (the headquarters of the festival) from 2pm to 12am.

Members of the public are encouraged to use the festival map on freeforallwalls.com as a guide to explore the festival, meet and engage with artists, take photos and enjoy public art.

"The talent line-up for this festival absolutely blows my mind. It's one thing for artists to donate their time for festivals in places with populations in the millions, like LA and Hong Kong, ...but Windsor?! The fact that Dan Bombardier has been able to rally world-class artists to come to our small city is a testament to his character and drive. Free For All Walls will transform Windsor into an art destination for the world to see." - Jeff Denomme (Haunted Zoo), participating muralist

Free For All Walls (F4AW) is a large-scale public mural and art project that was started in 2012 in downtown Windsor by artist Daniel Bombardier (Denial). Since its inception, F4AW has undertaken and completed upwards of 45 mural projects. This year, the mural project returns with dozens of new murals that will transform underutilized areas of the city that have been subject to vandalism, neglect or disrepair. Works will be completed in high-traffic, high-visibility areas to maximize exposure. These works, created by local and world-renowned artists, will be a positive gesture to the city, bringing lasting character, energy and beauty to Windsor. Updates for F4AW can be found on freeforallwalls.com, Facebook and Instagram (@freeforallwalls).

MEDIA CONTACT:

Daniel Bombardier, Artist, Creator & Producer of Free For All Walls Mural Project
519.551.3825 | info@enjoydenial.com